CONTROL OF POLIOMYELITIS

By authority contained in Section 7 of the Public Health Act and for the purpose of controlling the spread of Poliomyelitis, the Provincial Board of Health has ordered that, with effect from Friday the 14th day of August, 1953 and continuing until the order is countermanded, all children of 16 years and under be excluded from theatres and swimming pools.

The Provincial Board has also requested that the following recommendations which may be helpful in controlling this disease be published:

1. The tired child is much more liable to actual paralysis. Avoid fatigue.
2. Polio is a communicable disease. Avoid crowds.
3. Swimming should be avoided because of chilling, fatigue and possible contamination of the water.
4. Avoid contamination by careful personal hygiene, including washing of hands before meals and after using the toilet.
5. High standards of dish washing, washing of fruits and vegetables, and protection of food against flies should be maintained.
6. Keep garbage and waste material covered to avoid attracting flies.
7. Control of sewage should be maintained. Flies in out-door toilets can be controlled by chloride of lime, DDT or ashes, and by proper screening.
8. Where the disease is prevalent locally, operations for the removal of tonsils and adenoids should be avoided. Extraction of teeth should also be postponed if possible.
9. Early care will often prevent or limit crippling.
10. Generally speaking, mild cases are best cared for at home. Movement of patients may do harm.

Dodgers Drop Two Games In Playoffs

LAC LA BICHE—The enthusiastic followers of the Lac la Biche Dodgers were greatly disappointed last week when their team lost two games of the Provincial playoffs, putting them out of the series. The first game played at the Lakeview Stadium at Lac la Biche was one packed with thrills and excitement, and sometimes a bit of resentment toward the base umpire, whom the spectators figured was not judging correctly. None the less it was a good game with a closing score of Spedding Drakes 6, Lac la Biche 4.

On Sunday the local team journeyed to Spedding to play the second game at the Garner Lake Provincial Park, and ended up with the very close score of Spedding 7 and Lac la Biche 6.

On August 30 the Dodgers will be going to Westlock, where they will partake in a game to be played for the Challenge Cup against the Westlock Generals. They are hoping for good weather so that some of the local enthusiasts could also make the trip and do a bit of cheering in the right direction. So if you haven't anything planned, keep that date in mind and support our boys.

Lac la Biche News Briefs

Howard Lett has commenced his duties with the Government Liquor Store.

Jack Williams, formerly a staff member of the Government Liquor Store, is now on staff with the Department of Lands and Forests, Forestry Branch at Lac la Biche.

A farewell part, in the form of a Weiner Roast, was held at the Lac la Biche Mission Beach, in honor of Miss Beulah Quast, Miss Quast, who is well known here as a member of the Meteorology Bureau, has left to accept a position in the Income Tax Department at Edmonton. She was presented with a set of deer head plaques as a souvenir of Lac la Biche.

Mr. James Stewart and children have returned from a visit at Kelowna.

Rev. D. A. Greenough has returned from a five-day visit to Edmonton, where he attended the Summer School of Religion at St. Stephen's College, University of Alberta. The elector was Dr. Manson of Oxford University.

Don Corse, who for the past few weeks has been relieving at the Government Liquor Store, will be returning to Grassland to resume his teaching position.

Friends of Omer "Chuck" Jolli, pulled one on him last week when they held a surprise party, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. McQuitty. Mr. Jolli, who for the past while has been on the staff with the Provincial Treasury Bank, has left his position to go to Edmonton, and friends honored him with a farewell party. During the evening singing and dancing was enjoyed by all and presentation of a cigarette lighter was made by the Ball Club, as well as an album of records, a combined gift from all the friends.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Pawluk and daughter, who sustained injuries in an accident on the Spedding Highway a few days ago, and had to be hospitalized, are progressing favorably. Mrs. Pawluk and daughter have already been released from hospital, while it is only a matter of a few days before Mr. Pawluk will be permitted to return home.

Circus Thrills Young and Old

LAC LA BICHE — Last week the Circus came to town, with all its color and noise, to thrill youngsters and adults alike. In the afternoon while most of the ball enthusiasts took in the provincial play-off game, the children started to get their fill of rides, hot dogs, pop corn and ice cream. In the evening the big tent show of the Odyson Road Shows played to a good crowd. It was a Saturday most youngsters will talk about for a good long while, as it's certainly a thrill and a novelty to see the various performances, but especially all the gay rides. Thanks for the good time go to the Lions Club for sponsoring the show.

GOOD FISHING!

Fishing is reported good again this year at Beaver Lake, just three miles from Lac la Biche. Shown above is Mike Bobocel with a 12 lb. jack fish caught at Beaver in June.

Wandering River Wins Atmore Tourney

ATMORE—The baseball club held a sportsday on the 13th. The crowd was very thin on account of bad roads and work on the farm.

Lac la Biche and Wandering River were the only two teams to show up. Wandering River took a 3-0 score lead in the first inning, losing it only at the end of the 7th by two scores for Lac la Biche. With two men down and two on bases, Wandering River made a wonderful play by going ahead once more when at bat for their last time. Unfortunately Lac la Biche could not score during their last bat.

A pick-up of Plamondon girls with another of Atmore, played softball, the victory remaining for Atmore. The young men then challenged the married men—exactly who won—. The dance was well attended.

The Editor will pay $1.00 for every item published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life". To qualify items must be true personal incidents. Address "Embarrassing Moments," P.O. Box 4430, South Edmonton.

The most Embarrassing Moment for me was during my high school days. On Hallowe'en night our favorite sport was tipping over of the outdoor conveniences. One Hallowe'en evening it snowed. A group of us boys were indulging in our crude game. As we pushed one convenience over I slipped and fell into the "hole." My friends did not help me for the door of the house opened. It remained for the owner to assist me. I was never more embarrassed in my life.

In pre-war days the teenagers in our department used to see who could get the sheerest stockings. Then along came the "clothing coupon" era and we used to see who could paint our legs to most resemble stockings. Unfortunately the first trial Drug Store's preparation for painted stockings was not water-proof. The most embarrassing moment of my life came when I was at a garden party and some dear old lady's pet pomeranian dog licked a nice clean patch on my painted legs before I realised what was happening. I could have crawled down a worm hole I was so embarrassed.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Tell Him

Travel News

The sergeant was trying to train an awkward squad of recruits. "Shun! About turn!" he roared. Then, as he viewed the hopeless mix-up, he went on: "As you were!"

Most of the men shuffled into the last position, but Private Jones stood still, looking vacantly ahead. "You!" snapped the sergeant. "I said 'As you were!'"

"I 'eard, sarge," replied Jones, unhappily, "but 'ow were I?"

Chump — Yes, I take very naturally to dancing. My business has helped me a lot.

Dolly — What is your business?

Chump — Furniture moving.

Taint Fair

Teacher, patiently: "If one and one makes two, and two and two makes four, how much does four and four make?"

Old-enough-to-vote hillbilly pupil: "That ain't fair, teacher. You answer the easy ones yourself and leave the hard one for me."

With Strings Attached

The partners called their plant manager in and said: "We find that last year's business was the best since we opened the place. We know how much hard work you put in for us, and as a special mark of our appreciation, we are making out a check for one thousand dollars for you."

The manager stammered his thanks.

"Yes," went on the other partner, "and if next year's business is as good as this, we'll sign it."

You've Got to See to Saw

Once a lumberjack in Arkansas kept on sawing until darkness. That his efforts were in vain, So he stopped to explain:

"Any tree ah-can see arkansas."

Shoot!

"Are all the news cameramen here?"

"Yes, your honor."

"Light OK?"

"Yes, your honor."

"Sound OK?"

"Yes, your honor."

"Good. Then let justice take its course."

Earliness And Yield

Practically all early cereal varieties in central Alberta, and particularly oats and barley, produce lighter yields than the medium or late maturing varieties. This information comes from A. D. McFadden of the Lacombe Experimental Station.

In the case of wheat, Thatcher and the early maturing variety Saunders were compared. With the yield of Thatcher placed at 100 per cent, the yield of Saunders was 93.3 per cent in the dark brown soil zone, 94.8 per cent in the black soil area and 103.6 per cent on the grey-wooded soils.

Larain oats, an early variety, compared with Eagle yielded 62.2 per cent in the dark brown soils, 70.3 per cent on the black and 68.2 per cent on the grey-wooded.

Olli, an early barley variety, yielded only 72.8 per cent of Newal on the dark brown soils, 77.3 per cent on the black and 91.2 per cent on the grey-wooded soils. In spite of these differences, the early varieties still have a place in central Alberta in weed control programs and where early maturity to avoid frost is desirable.

The Story About Casey Jones

On the very spot where in 1900 his train rammed into the rear end of a long freight, Casey Jones was honored recently. The occasion took place near Vaughan, Mississippi, where fifty-three years ago the Illinois Central Cannonball Express piled up into that long freight train.

At the recent occasion, the fireman who jumped from the engine Jones operated, his 81-year-old widow, and many other close associates were present. The fireman, Sim T. Webb, told reporters Casey's last words were: "Jump, Sim, jump!"

Webb also recalled the last hours of the famous railroader, who now has become a part of the country's railroad legend. It seems that Casey and Webb had pulled into Memphis, Tenn., April 28th, 1900, expecting to get off duty. However, another of the line's engineers was ill and Casey Jones was substituted. Webb went along as fireman.

The fireman also recalls that Casey was an hour and a half late when he started out and very tired. Nevertheless, the Cannonball made up time steadily under the driving hand of the famed engineer. As the Cannonball approached Vaughan, Miss., it had made up the lost time. It was about 3:30 a.m. in the Mississippi city, 200 miles south of Memphis.

Jones saw the long freight ahead of him on the track and knew he had no chance to stop his engine in time to prevent a disastrous collision. He turned to his engineer, Webb, and yelled: "Jump Sim, jump!" The fireman jumped and saved his life. Casey died at the throttle in the shattering wreck which ensued.

To commemorate that famous wreck, and the life of a hero of American folklore, a marker was dedicated near Vaughan to the memory of Casey Jones. The engineer most certainly never dreamed he would be so well known in these United States, and yet there is hardly a boy in the country who has not sung the words to "Casey Jones" or heard the tale of the brave engineer, who is now one of the major characters in American folklore.

What Price Confidence?

Jean Paul St. Laurent, son of the Prime Minister, was so certain of Liberal gains in Alberta in the General Election he made a bet his party would win more Alberta seats than Social Credit. By long-distance telephone from Legal he wagered Robert H. Little of Vancouver $500.00 that the Liberal Party would get at least one more Alberta seat than Social Credit.

Actually, the Liberals ended up with seven less seats than their opponents. That makes three too few Alberta seats for the Liberals and five hundred dollars for over-confident Jean Paul.

The announcement that Soviet Secret Police chief Lavrenti Beria had been fired by Russia's ruling Communist surprised the world. The rift among the inner-circle leaders in Moscow arrived even sooner than most Canadians had anticipated. There has been a general suspicion among experts that the ruling clique inside the Kremlin would eventually split.

However, no one could be sure that the break-up would come only a few months after Stalin's death. The firing of Beria, the ruthless Secret Service chieftain who carried out some of Stalin's bloodiest purges, seems to prove that Georgi Malenkov has won his fight for supreme control among Communist leaders. For some time, especially in recent weeks, it has been suspected that Beria's powers were increasing steadily. This might have been true, and might have been the threat which prompted Malenkov to take decisive action to dispose of him before he was inclined to do likewise with Malenkov.

While the world will have to wait a little while to get an accurate view on the results and importance of the Beria dismissal, a tentative appraisal is that the change justifies cautious optimism. The break-up in the Soviet Supreme Command naturally weakens the entire Communist organization. It is a further indication that Russia, and the Russian leaders, are not at the moment prepared to precipitate an international crisis. This should afford some relief in the cold war.

Professing "Unity of Leadership" that will make the counsel table replace the desk of the single dictator, the two principal remaining Russian leaders—Molotov and Malenkov—are now engaged in a ticklish balancing act.

Will Molotov be the next big victim in a new Soviet blood purge?

A Blow Against Polygamy

It is a bit surprising to learn that an entire community of hundreds of persons was recently raided and placed under arrest by a force of more than 100 peace officers in the State of Arizona. Those arrested included over 100 men and women, some of the men being the father of more than twenty children and having as many as six wives.

The defendants comprise the principle membership of a Fundamentalist sect and claim they are true "Joseph Smith Mormons." They claim the Mormon church had no right to renounce the practice of polygamy (which it did years ago) and that interference with their religious beliefs in following this code is an infringement of their constitutional rights.

Officers raiding the community, near the Utah border in Arizona, found the community contained some 263 children.

The existence of this community and the accepted practice of polygamy in it is something of a surprise in 1953. In past years there have been other religious groups which sought to practice the same form of polygamy, although they had been gradually eliminated. That the idea has not been completely eliminated is illustrated by the latest raid in Arizona, which stirred up a surprising number of members of the polygamous cult.

Education Better

A plug for education as against the so-called school of "hard knocks and experience" comes from Dr. Roy Daniels, head of the department of English of the University of British Columbia.

"The best way to acquire knowledge is through being taught and not through experience," Dr. Daniels told the British Columbia educational conference. "The only way to learning is through tuition."

Dr. Daniels said teachers were faced with a difficult task. "They are expected to be leaders of the community and the wise people of the community."

He told the conference that "we must have a concept of the future because it is as important as the past."

"The future will bring a great deal of changes, but the most important thing is that the changes will be coming at an almost impossible tempo," he said.

"But the human will can control these changes," he added. "Teaching should try to prepare the mind of our youth to be open and prepared."

SAYS VOTE SYSTEM BAD

Additions to the surprises you express in the editorial, "Election Surprises," in your edition of August 10th, can be found in statistics compiled by The Canadian Press up to the morning of August 12th and published in the daily newspapers of that day.

In Alberta, for instance, the Liberal party polled more votes 109,478, for four seats, than did Social Credit, 109,286, for 11 seats at Ottawa. Possibly, however, the remaining polls have put Social Credit ahead in the figures.

Contrary to your view that Social Credit "has gained little or nothing outside this province (Alberta)" the group would seem to have done quite well in British Columbia, where its candidates polled, according to The Canadian Press, 118,924, for four seats, more than in Alberta for 11—while the Liberal party scored 137,459 and the CCF 119,586 for eight and seven seats respectively. Remaining polls may make a little difference in these totals.

To be drawn from the statistics is the conclusion that our voting system is not yet fully representative of the choice of the people, when the greater number of votes can elect a smaller number of members of parliament. This situation is, of course, apparent all over the country, giving a false impression of the real strength of parties and groups, or "movements." The only alternative would seem to be voting a 'slate' of candidates, with a proportion of the latter elected to parliament in relation to the number of votes polled, instead of the choice of individual candidates. While such a system might sound like that employed to select the Supreme Soviet, it would possibly have the advantage of sending the best brains to parliament and eliminate the multitude of "local" speeches that are made by members for days on end following the opening of the House.

ON TO OTTAWA!

Premier Manning says Social Credit is on the march. Following the August 10th election there is definite proof that it is on the march—going 'round and 'round' right here in Alberta but getting no place fast in the Federal arena. I'm getting tired of waiting for that $25.00 per month, so how about getting a move on, Social Crediters?

WANT BUS LINE

Here's a good chance for some enterprising bus company in Edmonton to establish a line that is badly needed and I have no doubt would prove profitable.

At present you can travel from Vimy to Egremont (a distance across country of about 25 miles) by bus ONLY by taking the Sunburst Coach to Edmonton and then take another bus to Vimy. It takes all day and you ride a bus for over 80 miles in order to travel 25.

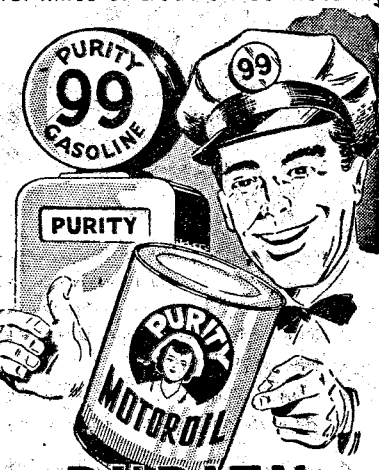

We need a bus service connecting these two highways and also giving service to Waugh. The road is good and all ready for someone to ask the government for a franchise.

How about it, Bus people?

LETTER TO LOUISA

Stylish Wife Prefers Spend Money On Clothes Instead Of Extra Food

Dear Louisa:

My wife and I have been having an argument and we would like to know what you think about it.

I think that the greater part of our money should be spent on food as that will make our children healthy and strong. She maintains that good clothes are more important than the best food.

Which of us is right?

MERE MAN.

Answer:

I think you should give everything its place. It is necessary, of course, to have good nourishing food but that doesn't necessarily mean a great deal of fancy food or more than you need.

Certainly, your children will suffer more if you eat up all of your money and let them go without the proper clothes than if you have sufficient food and nice looking things to wear.

It would be very foolish to try all sorts of fads and try to keep ahead of the styles if you can't afford it but every child should have as nice clothes as possible. This gives them poise and confidence in themselves and helps keep them from getting an inferiority complex, when they are around other children.

So try to strike a happy medium. If meals are planned ahead of time with food values in mind and if the mother is clever with the needle, money can be stretched much further than if one waits until the last minute to buy food and get wardrobes together.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa:

The boy I am engaged to has just been discharged from the Army and he has been offered two jobs. One is with a firm which have several sons of its different members working with them. The other is with a younger firm but there are no other relatives employed.

My fiancé is inclined to take the first offer because the salary is a good bit more but I feel that in the long run he will do better to take the other as there is so much greater chance of advancement.

What do you think?

ENGAGED.

Answer:

If both of the firms are good reliable businesses, I think, as you do, that he will get along faster on his own merits where there are not too many relatives to be looked out for.

LOUISA.

Atmore Residents Attend Pilgrimage At St. Vincent

Recently Arthur Boulanger and his wife, Eugene Rauthier and his wife with their son Laurier motor-ed Father St. Armand to St. Vincent where a pilgrimage was held at the grotto of the Blessed Virgin. Roger Dakin, Josephine and Bernard Dakin followed in their car.

Supper was taken at Eugene's uncle, Mr. Donat Noel's where was his grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Laflamme. The groups then made it to St. Vincent where numerous pilgrims attended a high mass.

His Excellency Bishop Lussier of St. Paul delivered the sermon. Everything would have been perfect if a stone had not damaged Arthur's car radiator, that which was repaired with cloth, chewing gum and ginger!

Coming back through Mallaig, where Father stopped to pay a short visit to his sister Mrs. Mageau and his 82 years old grandmother who brought him up after his mother's death, the parties ventured through Rich Lake.

Short cuts never pay, so is what they concluded when coming to Atmore the next day at 10:45 a.m., all crowded in Roger's car.

Young Richard Mageau of Mallaig, attending the Jesuit College at St. Boniface, Man., is spending the week with his uncle, Father St. Armand, before going back to school.

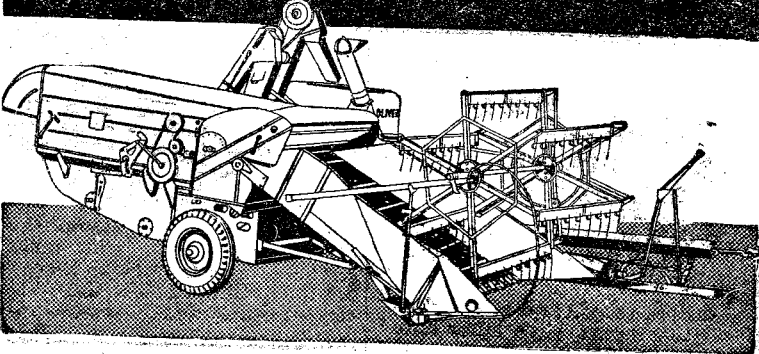

Since coming here Father had a pleasant surprise by his father and step mother's visit, Mr. and Mrs. Albert St. Arnaud of Gibbons. Accompanying them, Denise, his young sister, his grandmother Mrs. pointe his mother's niece of Don-O. St. Arnaud and Miss Giselle La-elly.

Pockets a Problem, Nudists Seeking Solution

CAJON PASS, Calif.—The most pressing problem of nudists meeting here is how to get along without pockets.

Mervin Mounce of Spokane, Wash., president of the American Sunbathing Association, announced a contest to determine the best solution. A prize will be awarded Sunday at the Association's 22nd annual convention.

HEALTH UNIT NOTES

Water Supplies:

The greatest single factor in the prosperity of home life is Health; and health in a home is only possible when there is a safe and sufficient supply of water to meet the daily needs of the household.

I propose to give a series of articles giving practical and helpful information to farmers and others who have to provide their own domestic supply.

The Quantity of Water Required Daily:

With the exception of the air we breathe water is more necessary to sustain human life than any other thing. If it is so important to our well being then surely the supply which you and your children drink should be of the best obtainable.

We must have sufficient water to meet body demands to assist the organs to function properly and to flush the wastes from the system. The quantity of water required for this purpose is about five pints, some of which is contained in the food we eat.

There must also be a sufficient quantity of water for cooking, personal washing, washing of clothes, and watering of stock. Additional water will be required where plumbing is installed.

The average quantity of water used by each person daily varies greatly with the circumstances and environment of the individual. For ordinary domestic purposes on the farm approximately fifteen gallons per day are used per person. Should there be five persons in the home the total amount for drinking and washing and ordinary

WANTED

WANTED—A maintenance man immediately for sewer and water system, roads, sidewalks and public works generally, in the Town of St. Albert. Applicants should state experience, age, and wages expected. Send applications in writing to Charles Gould, secretary, treasurer of the Town of St. Albert. CA 22, 29

WANTED—About four dozen good used chairs for the Community Centre. Contact Teel's Store, Coronado, Phone R121. PA 22,29

WANTED MISC.

WANTED—Used baby crib, playpen and small rocking chair or walker. Need not be in perfect condition. Mrs. Chas. Roy Pederson Box 72, Sangudo. CA 22, 29.

DO you want a farm or business in one of the finest farming districts?

We have a fine selection of farms, garages, restaurants etc., for immediate or fall possession in the district of Mayer, Sangudo, Mayerthorpe, Blue Ridge. This is wonderful country. We will be glad to show you over these farms, but please be sure to make an appointment before seeing us. Phone Mayerthorpe 41, or write purposes will be about seventy-five gallons. To this we must add the quantity required for watering animals, say four cows, two horses and one or two pigs, an additional one hundred gallons per day would have to be added. Why the Supply must be Safe:

GOULD & SON

Impure water may affect the health of the consumer in several different ways. If there is an excess of certain minerals in the water, disorders due to gastric or intestinal irritation such as dyspepsia and diarrhoea may be caused.

Impurities in the water may also, through continued entrance into the human system, bring about a condition in the consumer which makes him susceptible to a communicable disease.

The most serious consequence of drinking impure water, however is the probability of direct infection by disease germs contained in the water.

Communicable diseases are carried and spread by minute forms of vegetable life called bacteria or germs. The bacteria are so small that they can only be seen with the aid of a microscope. The germs of such diseases such as Typhoid Fever and Dysentery are discharged from the human system through the intestinal tract and are found in human wastes. If human wastes can directly or indirectly gain access to a river, lake or well, that source is dangerous and maybe infected with the germs of these diseases. Although it is desirable that a water supply be clear and sparkling, such a water is not always safe. Diseases organisms may be present in the clearest supply.

There are a great many considerations which must be carefully weighed before a supply can be pronounced safe, and if attention is given to subsequent articles it will put you in a better position to judge fairly accurately as to the safety of your supply.

Adjustment To Be Made In Rates

Starting September 1, display advertising rates in this newspaper will be adjusted upwards by ½c per agate line or 7c per inch. During the past two years the publishers have had to pay two annual increases in printers' wages and an increase in newsprint prices. In addition, another pay boost is already scheduled and it is hoped that this slight upward revision of advertising rates will at least partly offset the increased costs of publishing.

Plamondon News Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bosse had some week-end visitors from Calgary. They were Irene Biesterfeldt (Mrs. Bosse's sister), Evelyn Hemals, Dick Hubert, and Tommy Martin. On Sunday, together with some other friends, they all drove to Island Lake, about ten miles from Plamondon and spent a very pleasant day swimming and boating.

Mr. Urban Belanger has gone back to Trail, B.C., after visiting his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Belanger.

More cement sidewalks are being built in town. There is one starting at the corner by the Co-op store going to the pool room, and also another passing in front of the church.

Mr. Bonifast Tremblay has gone to work in Sarrail for a few months.

Mr. and Mrs. George Duperron went to Edmonton during the week-end.

Mrs. Edna White of Edmonton was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitford for a few days.

Andy Kaufman was a week-end visitor to Edmonton quite recently.

A few of the residents from this district were in to see Mr. Hall of Lac la Biche, as plans are being made on the removal of the Briereville school to Craigend.

Miss Beatrice Gurrat of Lac la Biche is a guest at the Tesplin home for the past few days.

Also business visitors to the city were Mr. Gordon Anderson and

Mr. John Anderson. They returned last Sunday. Gordon left the following morning, bound for Edmonton again, where he'll have repair work done on his truck, as it was badly bashed in at the time of his accident.

MORE SEPARATING CAPACITY

Than Any Other Thresher on the Market
the Keck-Gonnerman Thresher

... for 75 years the Farmer's Dependable Friend!

Almost four decades of experience in building dependable equipment for farmers has been put into the construction of the new Keck-Gonnerman Thresher... with the result that this thresher has exclusive construction features which are readily appreciated by the experienced farmer.

Study These Exclusive Advantages:

- 12 foot feeder carriers that are adjustable to any desired height from 36" to 74" merely by turning an adjusting crank.
- Feeder governed by fly-ball speed governor and volume control governor.
- All necessary adjustments for good threshing can be made while machine is in operation.
- Furnished with 12 bar cylinders on 28x48 and smaller machines and 15 bar cylinders on 28x50 and larger machines.
- Cylinder and blower shaft mounted on double row, self-aligning ball bearings.
- Equipped with 2 beaters for more efficient operation.
- Adjustable traveling rake chain back of cylinder elevates straw over separating grate and helps to distribute straw evenly onto racks. The rake chain added to the large concave and grate area gives the Keck-Gonnerman thresher the largest separating area of any machine on the market.
- Straw racks are divided and are evenly balanced, practically eliminating vibration of the machine.
- Six rows of steel lifting fingers operate up and down 215 times per minute while the rack moves back and forth at the same speed. The fingers toss the straw upward, tear it apart, and shake out any remaining grain.
- Heavily constructed channel and angle-iron frame put together with hot rivets. Frame will remain rigid after years of use.
- Blower shaft equipped with bull horns placed in position to auger and force a steady stream of straw into the blower. Practically impossible to choke blower.
- Full width door in rear permits sieves to be changed with minimum of time and effort.
- Heavy galvanized sheet-steel construction. Water- and weather-tight decks.
- The Kay-Gee weigher elevator is of belt and bucket construction.

Reception Held For Rev. Fr. J. St. Arnaud

ATMORE—On August 9 Atmore hall was well prepared for the official welcome of the new parish priest, Rev. Father Joselyn St. Arnaud. When entering the hall he was applauded by everyone present. Sitting with him were the first pioneers, Mr. Jean LeRouzic, Mr. Pierre Boulanger, Mr. Firmin Croutze, Mr. Jos. Dakin acted as master of ceremonies.

An address read by Marie Boulanger expressed to Father St. Arnaud the joy of the people greeting him as first resident priest of the Roman Catholic Parish of Atmore, their assurance he would organize them in one big family.

Afterwards Father St. Arnaud gave thanks. Deeply touched by so much encouragement and good will from the part of his first parishioners, Father declared his intentions were to work and devote himself soul and body into the establishment of his first and new parish and make it the finest of the diocese, this with the cooperation of his people.

Songs followed by Josephine Dupperon and Roger Dakin, Roger Croutze, Marie Boulanger and Julianne Dupperon. Then followed the presentations of numerous gifts to Father. Young Alvin Dakin and Isabelle Boulanger with the charming smiles offered them.

The house of Father St. Arnaud is pretty well furnished through the generosity of his parishioners and friends from Plamondon. Bad roads delayed quite a few. A good many from Blue Jay made it with the help of a tractor. Friends from Egg Lake and Plamondon greatly rejoiced Father by coming. We know how well he loved Plamondon and Egg Lake, but we are sure he is very glad being in Atmore.

Then lunch was served. Accompanying Father were Mike Illnicki of Blue Jay, Elmer Plamondon of Plamondon, Joe Bourassa of Egg Lake, Jean La Rouzic, Pierre Boulanger and Firmin Croutze of Atmore. An atmosphere of joy and happiness reigned in the hall. Bingo was afterwards played with great interest, and everybody left with a smile.

Once again through the reporter Father wants to extend his most sincere gratitude to the ones who organized and worked for the shower and to all those who gave him presents for the furnishing of his rectory.

about Cancer

QUESTION: Is it true that cancer eats the inside of the body?

ANSWER: Cancer does not "eat" the tissues. It causes death of surrounding tissues by interfering with their function and by robbing them of their food and blood supply.
